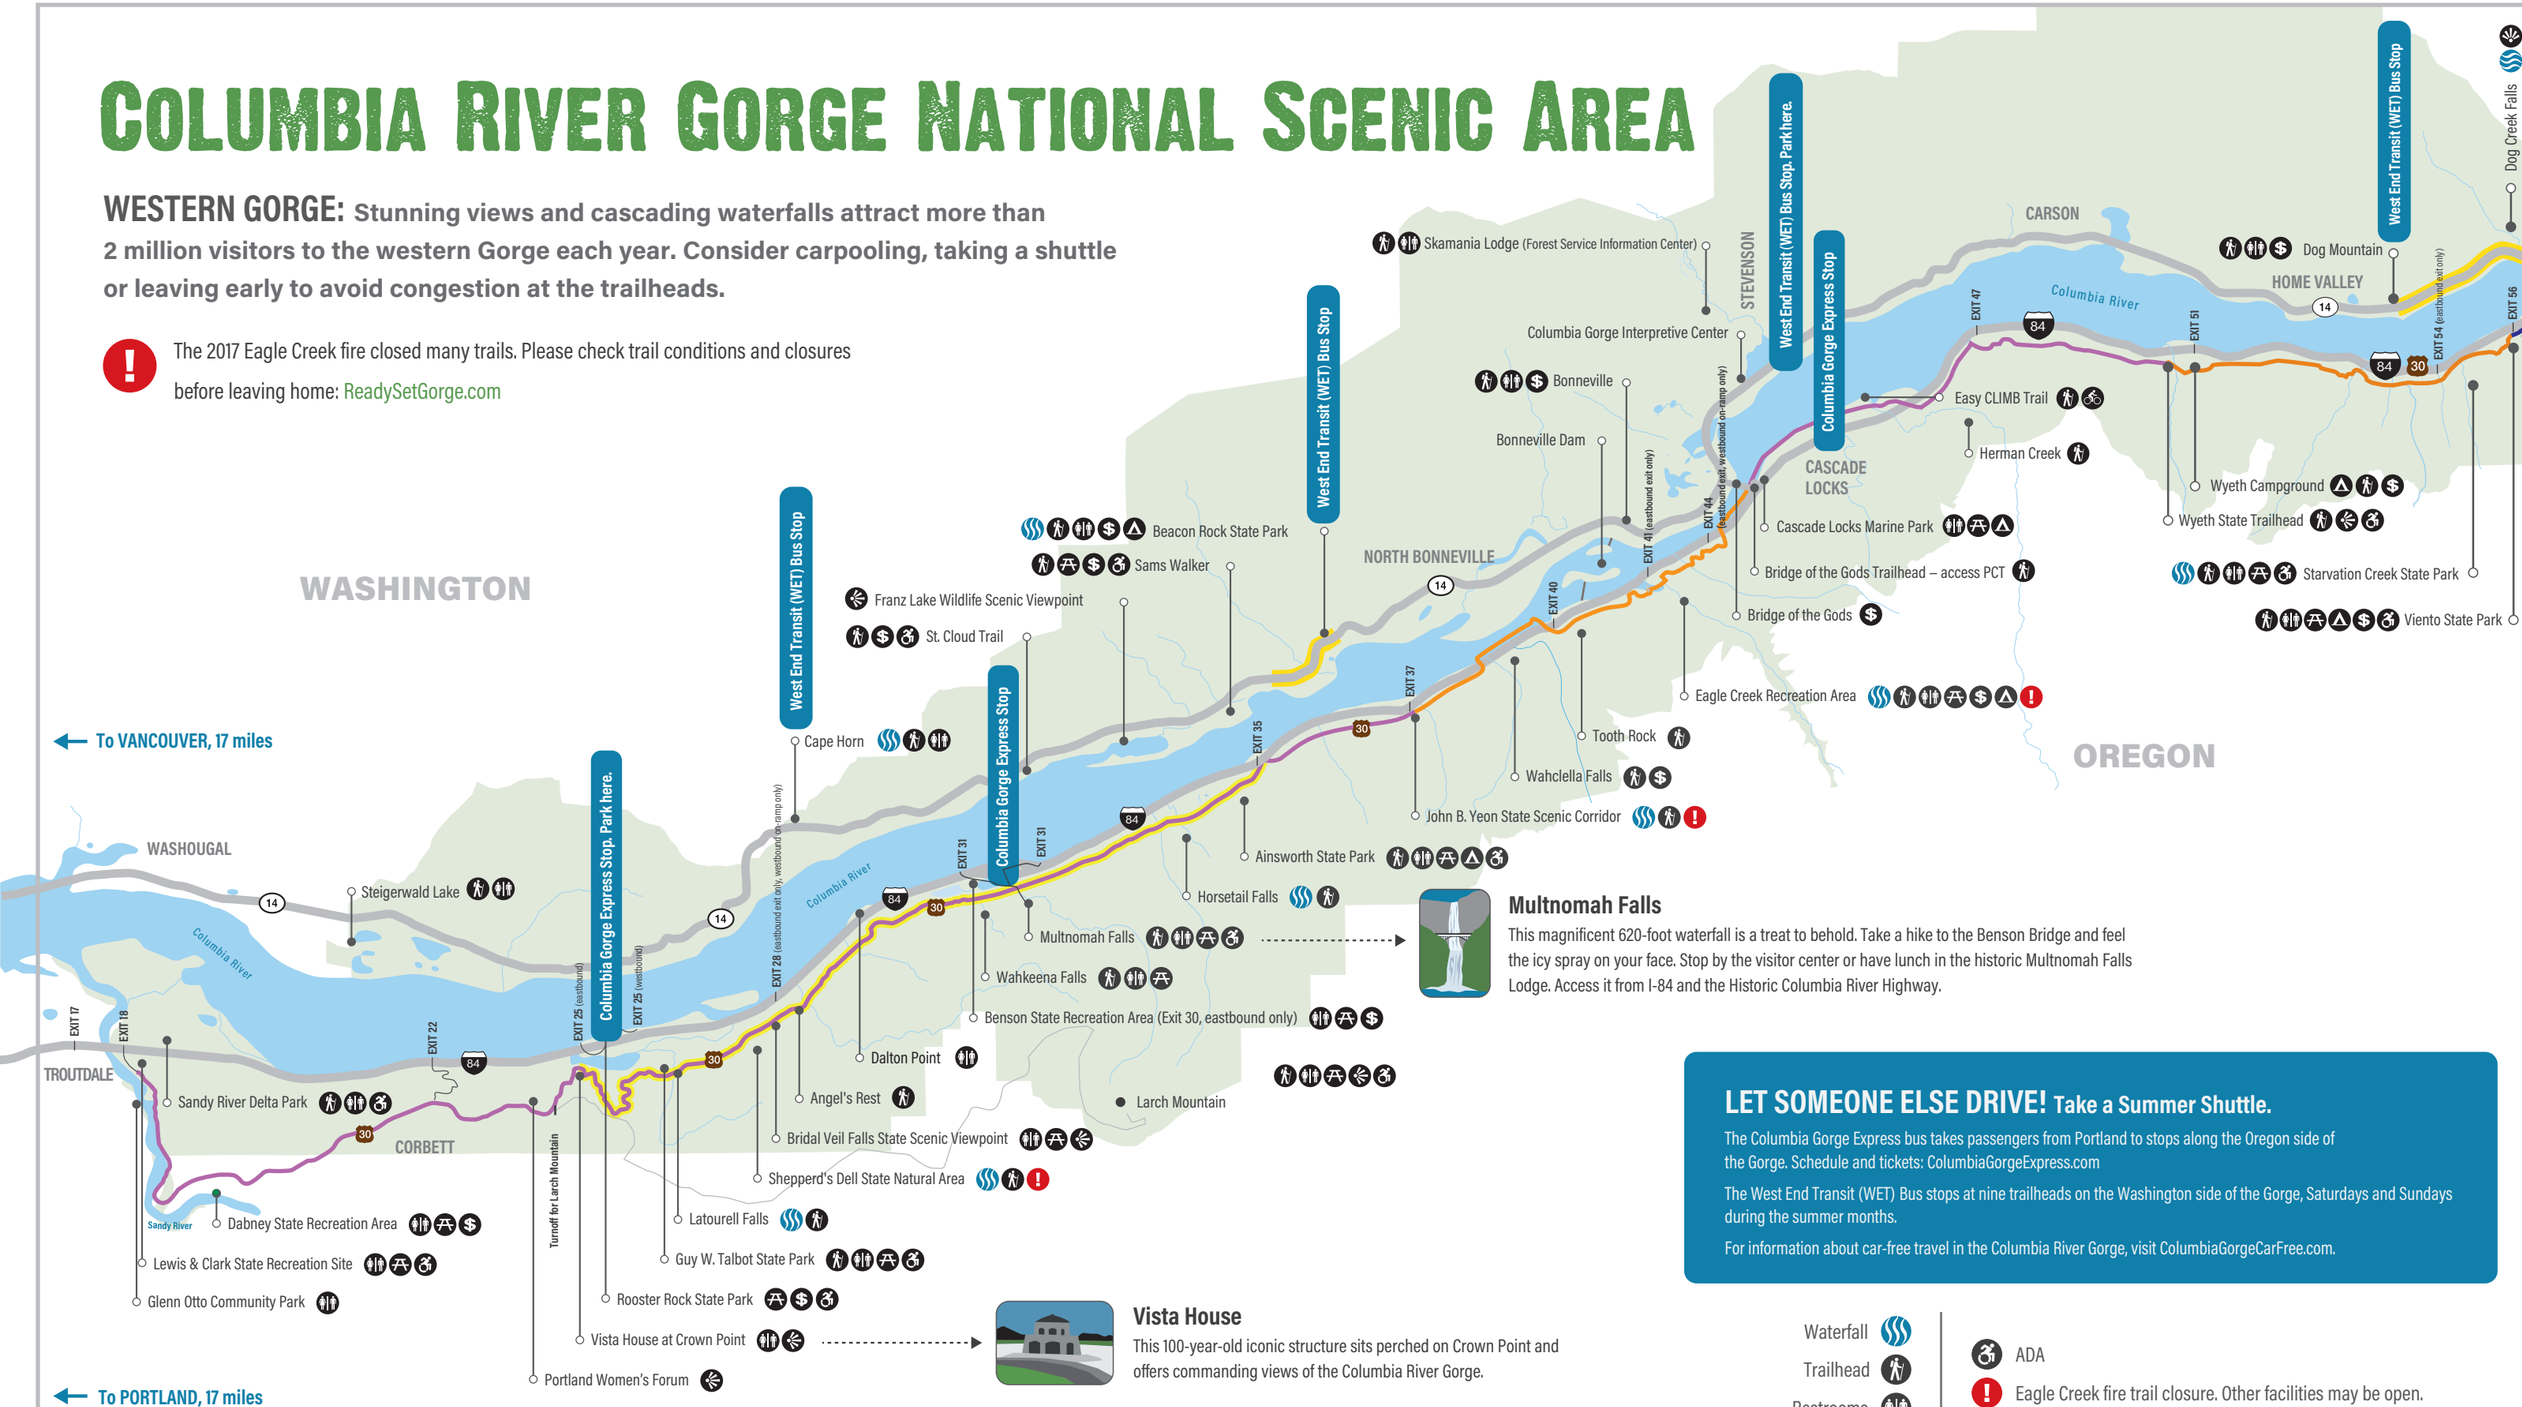
Columbia River Gorge National Scenic Area

WESTERN GORGE: Stunning views and cascading waterfalls attract more than 2 million visitors to the western Gorge each year. Consider carpooling, taking a shuttle or leaving early to avoid congestion at the trailheads.

! The 2017 Eagle Creek fire closed many trails. Please check trail conditions and closures before leaving home: ReadySetGorge.com



Multnomah Falls

This magnificent 620-foot waterfall is a treat to behold. Take a hike to the Benson Bridge and feel the icy spray on your face. Stop by the visitor center or have lunch in the historic Multnomah Falls Lodge. Access it from I-84 and the Historic Columbia River Highway.

Vista House

This 100-year-old iconic structure sits perched on Crown Point and offers commanding views of the Columbia River Gorge.

LET SOMEONE ELSE DRIVE! Take a Summer Shuttle.

The Columbia Gorge Express bus takes passengers from Portland to stops along the Oregon side of the Gorge. Schedule and tickets: ColumbiaGorgeExpress.com

The West End Transit (WET) Bus stops at nine trailheads on the Washington side of the Gorge, Saturdays and Sundays during the summer months.

For information about car-free travel in the Columbia River Gorge, visit ColumbiaGorgeCarFree.com.

- Waterfall
- Trailhead
- Restrooms
- Picnic area
- Fee required
- Overnight camping
- Viewpoint
- ADA
- Eagle Creek fire trail closure. Other facilities may be open.
- Historic Columbia River Highway Route (bike on road)
- Extreme congestion and limited parking available
- Historic Highway State Trail (no motorized vehicles)
- Freeway (bike along shoulder)
- Multi-use path

ReadySetGorge.com

READY, SET, GORGE!

MAKE IT FUN. MAKE IT SAFE. Tips for traveling the Columbia River Gorge National Scenic Area.

Columbia River Gorge National Scenic Area

EASTERN GORGE: With a dry, arid climate and fascinating geology, the eastern Gorge offers views of Mt. Hood, Mt. Adams and beyond. Its abundant wildflowers lure many visitors each spring. The eastern Gorge has fewer crowds than the western Gorge year-round.

Cyclists yield to pedestrians

Park in designated spots

Take valuables to prevent theft

Pay recreation use fees: gorgefriends.org/passes

Oregon road conditions: tripcheck.org
Washington road conditions: wsdot.com/traffic

The 2017 Eagle Creek fire closed many trails. Please check trail conditions and closures before leaving home: gorgefriends.org/trails

GET READY.

Plan your route ahead of time to avoid crowds. Go early. Go east. Go north. Go midweek.

GET SET.

Bring what you need and research road, trail and weather conditions. Visit ReadySetGorge.com for a list of resources to help you prepare for your adventure.

GORGE!

Take steps to help protect the Gorge so that future visitors can enjoy it, too. Visit ReadySetGorge.com for tips about how to be a steward of the Gorge.

Waterfall
Trailhead
Restrooms
Picnic area
Fee required
Overnight camping

Viewpoint
ADA

Historic Columbia River Highway Route (bike on road)
Extreme congestion and limited parking available
Historic Highway State Trail (no motorized vehicles)
Freeway (bike along shoulder)
Multi-use path

ReadySetGorge.com

READY, SET, GORGE!

EN August 2019