Prairie Dog Locations on the Little Missouri National Grasslands

Legend

- Interstate
- Prairie Dog Colony Location
- COE
- National Grassland
- Non Federal
- National Park Service
- State

DO NOT SHOOT!

The burrowing owl is a small ground-dwelling bird standing less than one foot tall. It is brown with pale spots. They are often seen standing at the mouth of an abandoned praine dog burrow, in which they nest and raise an average of 7-9 young. Please be aware of their potential presence and DO NOT SHOOT them! The burrowing owl population is declining and killing them or any other raptor can result in significant fines.

Prairie dog colony location map data from 2012 prairie dog survey.
Map by A. Warm - USFS