

Camping and Picnicking

Shawnee National Forest offers a variety of camping experiences, ranging from primitive backpacking to developed campgrounds with showers and electrical sites. Most campgrounds and picnic areas are located near lakes or areas of exceptional beauty with a variety of nearby recreational opportunities, such as hiking, fishing and sightseeing.

Johnson Creek, Pounds Hollow and Lake Glendale Recreation Areas offer lakeside settings. Oak Point Campground in Lake Glendale

Recreation Area is the largest campground. It offers electric/water campsites, shower house, beach, playground, dump station and group camping. Campgrounds that can accommodate RVs up to 40 feet are Johnson Creek Group Campground, Oak Point and Camp Cadiz. Equestrian camping is allowed at Johnson Creek and Camp Cadiz campgrounds.

Campsites are available on a first-come, first-serve basis. We do not accept reservations.

Most campgrounds are open from April 1st through Dec. 15th, although there are some exceptions. See the Recreation Site Index for site fees, amenities and dates of operation. The maximum occupancy per single campsite is eight people, two vehicles and two tents (or one camper). Campers are limited to a maximum of 14-days continuous stay.

Picnicking

Picnic areas are located adjacent to nearly every campground, as well as several other locations within the Shawnee National Forest. They are a great place to relax, take a walk, nature watch or to simply enjoy the outdoors. All picnic grounds are closed from 10 p.m. to 6 a.m. Many picnic areas accommodate large groups, but we do not accept reservations. Fire grills, picnic tables and toilet facilities are provided. Leashed pets are welcome.

For your safety, service and convenience, the developed recreation areas are regularly patrolled by Forest employees and law enforcement officers. While enjoying the outdoors, we encourage visitors to practice the Leave No Trace outdoor ethics. For more information visit: Int.org.

Designated Wilderness

Designated in 1990, the Shawnee National Forest possesses a total of seven Wildernesses: Clear Springs, Bald Knob, Panther Den, Bay Creek, Burden Falls, Lusk Creek and Garden of the Gods. Wildernesses are unique areas offering backcountry experiences and usually more solitude. Mechanical and motorized vehicles and equipment are not permitted (this includes bicycles). Wheelchairs are permitted. Plants and soil on rock faces are especially vulnerable to damage. Please stay on the trail. No special permits are required to enter or camp in the Wildernesses, but visitors should follow the guidelines below.

Help protect the natural resources:

- In popular areas, use existing, established camp areas away from trails, water and bluff tops to lessen your camping impacts.
- Opt not to build campfires and enjoy nature’s nighttime sights and sounds.
- If you must build a campfire, lessen the impacts by using existing fire rings and only dead and down firewood.
- Pack-it-in, pack-it-out. Don’t burn your trash. Bury solid human waste in a cathole 6 to 8 inches deep, at least 200 feet from campsites, trails and water sources.
- When in designated wilderness, keep group size to 10 people or less.
- No Camping with stock animals is allowed within Lusk Creek, Bay Creek, or Garden of the Gods Wildernesses.
