SITE HISTORY: During the Great Depression of the 1930’s a Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) side camp was stationed near the Hamma Hamma River. One of the CCC projects, between 1936-37, was the construction of the Hamma Hamma Guard Station including a garage, register station, and a rock and log rail fence bordering the site. It was used as an administrative site for Forest Service fire and trail crews. The skill and craftsmanship that went into the construction have been recognized with this unique building being nominated to the National Register of Historic Places.
