Lava River Cave Timed Reservation Tickets System

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ)

What is the Lava River Cave Timed Reservation Tickets System?

The Lava River Cave Timed Reservation Tickets System provides visitors with the ability to plan ahead by securing their timeslot for parking at Lava River Cave ahead of arrival.

When is the system in effect?

The Lava River Cave Timed Reservation Tickets System is in effect annually from opening in early May to closing on September 15. The 30-day rolling release begins April 5, for visiting on May 5, 2023. April 6, releases reservations for May 6, and so on. Tickets will become available for reservation at 7 a.m. PST each day.

Why was the timed reservation tickets system implemented?

Lava River Cave consistently receives an average of 70,000 visitors during the operational season. High-volume visitation often far exceeds designed parking capacity. This meant long wait times and uncertainty for visitors who chose to line-up along the road outside of the cave entrance. Lava River Cave Timed Reservation Tickets improves visitors' safety and experience by providing timeslots available for reservation in advance, including same-day arrivals (subject to availability).

How does the reservation system work?

Timed reservations for Lava River Cave are available on Recreation.gov. Each timeslot allows access to Lava River Cave for two hours when Lava River Cave is open.

Beginning April 5, approximately 50% of the tickets will be available on a rolling 30-day booking window. The remaining 50% will be available on a 24-hour booking window. A total of 14 daily entry blocks will be available every thirty minutes starting at 9 a.m. with the last block at 3 p.m. (10 a.m. – 2 p.m. in May).
