Jim McClure—Jerry Peak Wilderness

Passed into law on August 7, 2015, this designation marks a unanimous Act of Congress.

Wilderness is established as a place where ecosystems remain undeveloped and intact, natural processes unfold without intervention and humans may visit but not stay.

You can help protect these values for future generations.:

- Take time to read this map and know if your planned trails are in or out of the wilderness
- This wilderness is closed to bicycles, motor vehicles, wheeled carts, chainsaws and other motorized equipment
- Existing regulations for stay limits and weed free hay are still in effect.
