Applying for Temporary Fire Positions

The Forest Service has a new application system. We will be utilizing USAJOBS, which is the Federal Government’s official job search website.

The internet address is: www.usajobs.gov

On this website, the first thing you will be required to do is to create a profile, with a username and password, where you will describe your work experience and your level of education within “Resume Builder”. When applying for a Federal job, you should be very detailed and precise in describing your work experience. Always remember, the personnelists who will be qualifying your application cannot assume you have specific knowledge; you must say it in writing. You will also have the option of attaching additional separate resumes to your profile. This is a good idea since you will not be limited to 5,000 characters as you are in the usajobs Resume Builder narrative blocks. You can have a total of 5 separate resumes attached in your profile, including the one created in Resume Builder. You will be required to attach documentation to verify your fire qualifications and your education (if higher than high school). If you claim to have a college degree, you must attach college transcripts however they do not have to be official.

Upon completion of your profile, you can begin applying for jobs. You can search www.usajobs.gov using the announcement numbers specific to the GS level you are applying for. Type the vacancy announcement number in the Keyword Search window.

A referral list (a list of qualified applicants) will be generated from these announcement numbers. If your application has not been submitted before the deadline date, you will not be considered for the position(s).

ABOUT LASSEN NATIONAL FOREST:

Lassen National Forest lies at the crossroads of Northern California, where the granite of the Sierra Nevada, the lava of the Cascades and the Modoc Plateau, and the sagebrush of the Great Basin meet. This 1.2 million-acre forest is managed for recreational access as well as timber and firewood, forage for livestock, water, minerals, and other natural resources. The Lassen offers opportunities for hiking, camping, boating, fishing, hunting, cross-country skiing, cycling, and snowmobiling to year-round residents and visitors. For more information, visit www.fs.usda.gov/lassen.

UPCOMING PROJECTS:

Take a look at our Schedule of Proposed Actions for fiscal year 2016 to learn more about our upcoming projects.

ABOUT THE AREA:

◆ Supervisor's Office, Susanville, Calif.

With a population of 17,000, Susanville is the seat of Lassen County and the largest community in northeastern California. This quiet mountain community offers a hospital, a local community college, several independent school districts, churches representing most denominations, and a strong sense of community. The city of Reno, Nevada is 80 miles to the south, and the cities of Chico and Redding, California are about 100 miles to the west. At just over 4,000 feet above sea level, Susanville is surrounded by mountains and enjoys four seasons including cold winters and warm, dry summers. The community offers easy access to the lakes and mountains, as well as the numerous recreational opportunities available at the Lassen and Plumas National Forests and the Lassen Volcanic National Park.
