

CELEBRATING THE 50TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE NATIONAL HISTORIC PRESERVATION ACT

PUBLIC INTERPRETATION

SHARING THE CULTURAL AND HISTORICAL FOUNDATIONS OF THE NATION THROUGH PRESENTATIONS, DISPLAYS, AND EDUCATION

In Section 1 (16 U.S.C. 470b) of the National Historic Preservation Act, the Congress finds and declares that the historical and cultural foundations of the Nation should be preserved as a living part of our community life and development in order to give a sense of orientation to the American people.

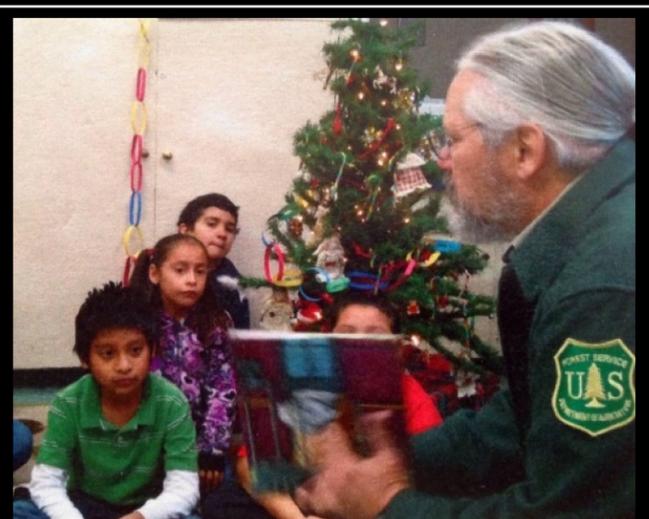

The Heritage staff on the Sierra National Forest has worked hard to establish a diverse public interpretation program. Every year, each staff member contributes many hours sharing the Sierra's rich cultural heritage with the American people.

High Sierra District Archaeologist Steve Marsh teaches about Native American culture to groups of excited school children.

Bass Lake District Archaeologist Erin Potter presents an educational lecture.

Heritage Program Manager Doug McKay reads a story to school children.

A display created by Bass Lake Archaeologist Marie Mogge, informs Forest visitors about the history of the Sierra National Forest.
