

United States Department of Agriculture

Be a reporter!

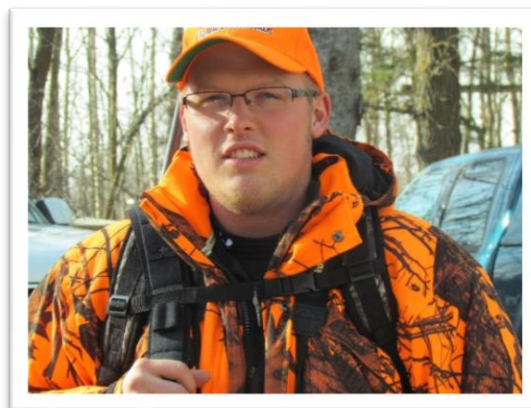

What's Your Nature Story?

There are so many people who visit the Chippewa National Forest each year, in every season. People come to this area to camp, fish, hike, cross-country ski, bird watch, and geocache. Do you like to camp, or ski or fish? Who taught you?

Here's a great assignment. Talk to the people around you who like to do things outside. Where did they learn those outdoor skills? Who taught them? If you ask, you may just hear an amazing story! Write their outdoor story down. Take a picture-or better yet, ask them if they have a photo of themselves as youngsters learning to fish, ski or camp.

November Seasonal Stories: Hunting Camp

Hunting is a very traditional outdoor sport here in northern Minnesota. We see generations of people hunting together during the fall seasons. If you have a hunter in your family, put on your "reporter hat" and ask that person a few questions to start your hunting journal!

How old were you when you first learned to hunt?

Do you have a family hunting camp? Is it on a National Forest?

Who cooks at hunting camp and what do you always eat at camp?

What is your favorite hunting story?

What is the best memory at hunting camp? Do you have a funny story?

Chippewa National Forest