Frequently on trails. Teams are trained to travel on right side of trail but might be on left. Use caution on curves and pass teams slowly.

ATV's are not allowed on groomed trails on the Rogue-Siskiyou and Fremont-Winema National Forests

- Tips for Winter Survival:
- Choose your destination wisely and travel within your ability.
 - Let someone know where you are going and when you will return.
 - Bring a cell phone for back country emergency communication.
 - Take an avalanche transceiver and equipment when in avalanche country.
 - Carry a shovel to dig out your machine or to dig out an emergency shelter.
 - Be considerate of others, do not block trails, do not drive diagonally on trails.
 - Avoid frostbite by keeping extremities and face well protected. Watch for the first signs of frostbite, a tingling and then numbing feeling.
 - Bring an emergency shelter and/or a sleeping bag.
