The Chugach National Forest offers 40 public recreation cabins located along trails, and near remote lakes, streams and saltwater beaches. They are accessible by float and wheel plane, boat, or trail. One cabin (McKinley Trail) in Cordova is accessible by road. Hikers should prepare for backcountry travel through bear country - Be Bear Aware. Carry emergency shelter and provisions in case you are unable to reach your cabin. For cabin updates please visit www.fs.usda.gov/chugach.

Changes or cancellations

A service fee will apply for cancelled reservations. If you cancel your reservation within 14 days of your scheduled arrival date, you will be charged a service fee and forfeit the first night's recreation use fee. Cancellations for a single night's use will not be assessed a service fee.

There is a limit of one change per reservation on all public Forest Service cabins.

No shows, early departures, or cancellations after the scheduled arrival date are not entitled to a refund. Refunds are not given if the cabin user is unable to access a cabin because of inclement weather, frozen lakes, snow covered trails or other circumstances beyond Forest Service control.

You must have your confirmation number or a copy of your emailed permit with you while occupying a Forest Service public recreation cabin.
