Birth of a Lake Trail Loop #246 (not shown on map), trailhead at Coldwater Lake Recreation Area

Trailhead facilities: Restrooms, drinking water, and picnic area.

Roundtrip Distance: 0.6 mi./1.0 km.
Average Total Time: 20 minutes
Elevation Change: 20 ft./6 m.

Description: Paved boardwalk with interpretive signs along the shore of Coldwater Lake, a lake created by the 1980 eruption. The trail offers a close-up look at returning life in the area, with glimpses of Mount St. Helens and views of Minnie Peaks.

Eruption Trail #201 (not shown on map), trailhead at Johnston Ridge Observatory

Trailhead facilities: Restrooms and drinking water during open hours.

Roundtrip Distance: 0.5 mi./0.8 km.
Average Total Time: 20 minutes
Elevation change: 114 ft./35 m.

Description: Paved trail with interpretive signs. The trail offers panoramic views of Mount St. Helens, its crater and lava domes, the pumice plain and blast zone, as well as partial views of Spirit Lake.

One to three miles long

Hummocks Trail Loop #29

Trailhead facilities: None, nearest restrooms and drinking water at Coldwater Lake Recreation Area.

Roundtrip Distance: 2.6 mi./4.3 km.
Average Total Time: 60 minutes
Elevation change: 300 ft./91 m.

Description: The trail takes you through hummocks (giant chunks of Mount St. Helens deposited by the May 18, 1980 landslide). It offers a close-up look at numerous wetlands and ponds, as well as excellent vistas of Mount St. Helens and the Toutle River.

Loowit Viewpoint

*Access via Boundary Trail #1 at Johnston Ridge Observatory

Trailhead facilities: Restrooms and drinking water during open hours.

Roundtrip Distance: 1.6 mi./2.6 km.
Average Total Time: 45 minutes
Elevation change: 314 ft./96 m.

Description: Trailhead is located near the western side of the Observatory parking lot. The trail winds its way along the south facing side of the ridge giving views into the heart of the blast zone at the Pumice Plain and recovering landscape as well as view into the crater.

Four miles and longer

Coldwater Lake Loop via Lakes Trail #211, Coldwater Trail #230, and South Coldwater Trail #230A, trailhead at Coldwater Lake Recreation Area

Trailhead facilities: Restrooms, drinking water, and picnic area

Roundtrip Distance: 11.2 mi./18.0 km.
Average Total Time: 5-6 hours
Elevation change: up to 1627 ft./496 m.

Description: Starting either at the Observatory via the Eruption Tr. or from the parking lot, the impact of the destructive power of a volcanic eruption can be seen in the form of the landslide, lateral blast and pyroclastic flows. Excellent views of Mount St. Helens and the crater abound throughout as well as Spirit Lake to the east. Sections of this trail are narrow with steep drop-offs. The trail goes through a natural arch with vistas of Saint Helens Lake before climbing to the peak of an ancient volcano plug.

Loowit Falls via Truman Trail #207 and Boundary Trail #1, trailhead at Johnston Ridge Observatory

Trailhead facilities: Nearest water, restrooms and telephone are at Johnston Ridge Observatory, during open hours; Coldwater Lake, after hours.

Roundtrip Distance: 13.6 mi./22.0 km.
Average Total Time: 6-7 hours
Elevation Change: 1000 ft./304 m.

Description: This trail travels through the pumice plain and gives different perspectives of Mount St. Helens’ crater, Spirit Lake and ends near the base of Loowit Falls. Watch for elk and mountain goats as you cross the pumice plain and ascend a viewpoint of the 186” Loowit Falls.

Note: Stay on trail and do not cut switchbacks. Filter all water from streams and springs. The Whitter Ridge trail is not recommended with a full pack. Gas grills only at picnic sites or backcountry camps. Trails designated for mountain biking include Lakes Tr., South Coldwater Tr., Coldwater Tr. Boundary Tr. (from Norway Pass to Coldwater trail junction), and Smith Creek Tr.
