This site is within a forest dominated landscape, and provides access to a variety of trails and stunning views of the Libby valley, the Kootenai River and the Cabinet Mountains.

The equine trailhead and camping area is an excellent area for families and inexperienced horses or horsemen. The site is suitable for large living quarter trailers, and has ample areas to highline around the perimeter of the site. There are hitching rails, fire rings, picnic tables, a trail training course, and a vault toilet. There is no water available at this site.

This area is shared with hikers and mountain bikers so please be aware of, and courteous to other users.

From Libby, go northeast on Highway 37 for approximately 1 mile and turn left onto Pipe Creek Road. The Sheldon Trailhead is 4.3 miles up Pipe Creek at the junction of Forest Road # 4753.
