

Approximately 290,000 acres of National Forest System lands on the Sierra Vista Ranger District are open for recreation, including the 21,000+ acre Miller Peak Wilderness Area.

Hiking, excellent bird watching opportunities, horseback riding and more are available across the district along with ATV use on Forest System roads. Approximately 150 acres of hiking trails cross the district, to include the Arizona Trail which starts on Sierra Vista Ranger District. Scenic driving and access to recreational opportunities can be found by exploring any of the approximately 540 miles of roads open to the public.
