Welcome to the Manti-La Sal National Forest
Moab-Monticello District

The Manti-La Sal National Forest is a diverse landscape. Whether you enjoy deep sandstone canyons, mountainous, laundry, lakes or streams, you can find a favorite getaway here. The Moab-Monticello District consists of two separate "fortress", the La Sal Mountains near Moab and the Abajo Mountains/EK Ridge and Dark Canyon Wilderness near Monticello and Bluffing. These National Forests are easily recognized as the peak of the desert below. They are well known for stunning vistas and great recreational pursuits. Evidence of past human involvement is found throughout the Manti-La Sal National Forest, however the Moab-Monticello District contains today. Today the District offers people a retreat from the hurly of modern life. If you seek peace and quiet, as an opportunity to see some of the most memorable views in Utah, or engage in hiking, biking, hunting, fishing, camping or climbing, you can find it here.

Whether you visit the Forest for a day, a weekend, a week, or longer, we welcome you and hope this map helps you find your way through this incredible landscape.

Respect and Protect Archeological Sites

For the Moab-Monticello District there is an archaelogical sites and artifacts. Many are thousands of years old. Archeological sites and artifacts give us a sense of the culture of men we same from, and what we are when. When you visit our National Forests or take our trails to enjoy the outdoors, please take care to protect these sites.

ARCHEOLOGICAL SITES

- Archeological sites are places where you can find artifacts or structures such as archeological.

- All archeological sites and artifacts are protected by Federal law (Antiquities Act 1906) and state law. You can find more information about the sites and how to protect them at the Forest Service website (www.fs.us.gov).

- Violation of the Antiquities Act is punishable by law (18 U.S.C. §1750). The maximum penalty includes fines and imprisonment. If you find a site, do not disturb it. Leave it as you found it.

- If you find an archeological site or artifact, please report it to the Forest Service or your local land management office. (50) 526-3545 or moab困惑@fs.fed.us)

HOW TO USE THIS MAP

This Travel Map is a companion map to the Forest Visitor Use Map (VUM) and Moab-Monticello Map. It is designed to give more information about the landscape where you visit the National Forest and helps you plan your trip.

- Visit the VUM website to see the visitor use map of the area
- The Travel Map does not display the more recent visitor use map.
- To view more information about the landscape visit the VUM website.
- The Visitor Use Map website can be found at www.fs.us.gov.

Respect and Protect Archeological Sites

- Archeological sites and artifacts are protected by Federal law (Antiquities Act 1906) and state law. You can find more information about the sites and how to protect them at the Forest Service website (www.fs.us.gov).

- Violation of the Antiquities Act is punishable by law (18 U.S.C. §1750). The maximum penalty includes fines and imprisonment. If you find a site, do not disturb it. Leave it as you found it.

- If you find an archeological site or artifact, please report it to the Forest Service or your local land management office. (50) 526-3545 or moab困惑@fs.fed.us)

Monticello Ranger District

Seasonal and Special Vehicle Designations

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Route Number</th>
<th>Designation</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>50</td>
<td>DISPERSED</td>
<td>Dispersed Camping</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Legend

- Roads Open to Highway Legal Vehicles
- Roads Open to Off-Highway Vehicles
- Roads Open to Motorcycles
- Roads Open to Four Wheel Drive
- Special Use Permits
- Special Use Construction
- Special Use Vehicles (e.g. Heavy Yards)
- Special Use Structures (e.g. Tower)
- Interpretive
- U.S. Forest Service
- Camp & Other Public Roads
- State Parks
- National Parks
- Wildlife Refuges
- National Wildlife Areas
- National Scenic Trails
- National Historic Trails
- National Recreation Trails
- National Byways
- National Scenic Byways
- National Forest Boundary
- Roads Open to Highway Legal Vehicles
- Roads Open to Off-Highway Vehicles
- Roads Open to Motorcycles
- Roads Open to Four Wheel Drive
- Special Use Permits
- Special Use Construction
- Special Use Vehicles (e.g. Heavy Yards)
- Special Use Structures (e.g. Tower)
- Interpretive
- U.S. Forest Service
- Camp & Other Public Roads
- State Parks
- National Parks
- Wildlife Refuges
- National Wildlife Areas
- National Scenic Trails
- National Historic Trails
- National Recreation Trails
- National Byways
- National Scenic Byways
- National Forest Boundary

How to Use This Map

This Travel Map is a companion map to the Forest Visitor Use Map (VUM) and Moab-Monticello Map. It is designed to give more information about the landscape where you visit the National Forest and helps you plan your trip. The Travel Map does not display the more recent visitor use map. To view more information about the landscape visit the VUM website.

- Visit the VUM website to see the visitor use map of the area
- The Travel Map does not display the more recent visitor use map.
- To view more information about the landscape visit the VUM website.
- The Visitor Use Map website can be found at www.fs.us.gov.

Respect and Protect Archeological Sites

- Archeological sites and artifacts are protected by Federal law (Antiquities Act 1906) and state law. You can find more information about the sites and how to protect them at the Forest Service website (www.fs.us.gov).

- Violation of the Antiquities Act is punishable by law (18 U.S.C. §1750). The maximum penalty includes fines and imprisonment. If you find a site, do not disturb it. Leave it as you found it.

- If you find an archeological site or artifact, please report it to the Forest Service or your local land management office. (50) 526-3545 or moab困惑@fs.fed.us)