MERIDIAN FIRE UPDATE

October 9, 2020

The Central Idaho Dispatch Zone is at HIGH Fire Danger.

On InciWeb @ <https://inciweb.nwcg.gov/incident/7233/>

The Meridian Fire; reported October 5, is located approximately 22 miles south of Clayton in the Hunter Creek drainage on the Lost River Ranger District. The fire is established in the timber and is approximately 485 acres burning in Douglas fir and grass. Fire cause is under investigation.

Firefighters observed active fire behavior yesterday afternoon. The fire had isolated torching and short-range spotting. The fire continues to burn to the northwest towards Hunter Creek Summit. Today, firefighters anticipate the fire to continue to spread to the northwest towards East Pass Creek with the forecasted winds and low relative humidity and afternoon warming.

Firefighters are using a confine and contain strategy. Firefighters are focusing on containing the southern portion of the fire and confining the fire on the east and west sides of the fire using natural barriers, engaging the fire where safe to do so. Firefighters have completed 7% containment along the southern portion of the fire. Firefighters anticipate favorable weather this weekend which at that time will slow fire growth to the north. The fire is staffed with one (1) Type I crew, four (4) helicopters, and smokejumpers.

CLOSURES: The Salmon-Challis National Forest has implemented an emergency area closure (#04-13-20-014) to protect Forest visitors from the current fire safety hazards associated with the Meridian Fire. The following is closed:
Area Described: The closure area is depicted on the map which can be found at <https://inciweb.nwcg.gov/incident/map/7233/0/109523>. Roads and Trails Described: FS Road 477 Hunter Creek Road and FS Trail 050 Hunter Creek Trail. If you are recreating near an ongoing wildfire suppression operation, please keep your distance - do not congregate in the area and allow the firefighters to do their job safely and efficiently.

WEATHER: One more warm and extremely dry day across the central mountains. Haines of 5 & 6 are forecast once again as well. Rain arrives later Saturday and spreads east into Sunday. Snow levels drop to around 5000ft Sunday morning and remain as low as 5500-6000ft during the day. Strong winds are expected Saturday, but humidity values will be above critical levels.

Smoke from the Meridian Fire could be seen from the Ketchum area. Nationally, there are 40 uncontained large fires being managed under a full suppression strategy and 37 large fires managed under a strategy other than full suppression. These fires are contributing to the smoke, which has been drifting into the Salmon-Challis National Forest and the valleys around the Forest. The public can find further information on smoke at <http://airquality.deq.idaho.gov/> and <http://idsmoke.blogspot.com>.
