New and Expanded Food Storage Order

Gallatin National Forest managers will implement a new food storage order (FSO) on March 1, 2007. The new order is intended to reduce adverse human-wildlife interactions, thereby promoting human safety and the protection of bears and other wildlife species. The order will be in effect from March 1 through December 1 on an annual basis. The order will require that unattended food, refuse, and attractants be stored in hard sided vehicles or bear-resistant containers (or hung above the ground out of the reach of wildlife) at all locations on the Gallatin National Forest.

The order defines appropriate methods for acceptably storing and acceptably possessing food, refuse and other attractants, including animal carcasses (i.e. electric fencing, hard-sided vehicles, hanging from a tree, use of Interagency Grizzly Bear Committee bear-resistant containers, and appropriate methods for burning garbage). Individuals who do not comply with the new food storage order can be fined.
