New Ranger selected for Flaming Gorge Ranger District

Jeff Schramm has been selected as the new Ranger for Flaming Gorge Ranger District. Jeff is currently the Acting District Ranger at the Idaho City Ranger District on the Boise National Forest. He has worked, and has experience in a broad range of resource areas including recreation, which is his passion.

Jeff started his career with the Forest Service as Forestry Technician in 1989 on the Boise National Forest. Some of his jobs have included Timber Management, Recreation Forester and Supervisor Biological Scientist.

Ashley National Forest Supervisor George Weldon states, "Jeff Schramm will be a great asset to the Ashley National Forest and our communities. We are very excited and feel fortunate to have Jeff as our new Flaming Gorge District Ranger."

Jeff graduated from the Utah State University in 1989 with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Forestry. Jeff will start as Flaming Gorge District Ranger on June 27th, 2004.
