Lost Johnny Creek Bridge Replaced on West-side Reservoir Road

The Flathead National Forest is replacing the Lost Johnny Creek Bridge on the West-side Reservoir Road, Forest Road #895, and temporary traffic delays are anticipated through mid-August. The bridge is located approximately five miles south of Hungry Horse Dam.

Flood damage washed out the bridge in 2006 and a temporary bridge has been in place since. Funding from the Emergency Relief for Federally-Owned Roads has contributed to the bridge replacement.

For more information, please contact the Hungry Horse – Glacier View District at 387-3800.
