Caring for the land and serving people

[This page inserted to format for duplex printing]

Dear Prospective Volunteer:

Welcome to the Volunteer Program of the USDA Forest Service – Angeles National Forest!

The Angeles National Forest, located right next door to the city of Los Angeles, California, is an invaluable public treasure. For literally millions of people, this mega-urban national forest is a favorite “go-to” place for recreation, solitude, renewal, and relief from city-life stresses. And for many – adults and children alike – it serves as an outdoor classroom where they can learn about their natural and cultural heritage, and the importance of natural resource conservation.

The USDA Forest Service is mandated to care for this 655,387-acre forest, and to serve its millions of visitors. For decades, the agency has relied on dedicated volunteers and partners to accomplish this. In 2013 alone, volunteers contributed over 75 thousand hours of their time (valued at nearly 1.7 million dollars) to vitally important activities on the Angeles National Forest, such as maintaining trails, hosting campgrounds, staffing visitor centers and environmental education activities, and restoring valuable wildlife habitat.

If you’re already a volunteer, I want to thank you for all that you’ve done. Your contribution of time and effort, combined with those of thousands of other volunteers, is what makes it possible to achieve the mission of the Forest Service: “to sustain the health, diversity, and productivity of the National’s forests and grasslands to meet the needs of present and future generations.”

And if you’ve never volunteered, but you’re interested in getting involved, I invite you to take a few minutes to explore this directory of volunteer projects. You will find a variety of activities on these pages. Some projects will provide you with an opportunity to use a favorite skill; others may introduce you to a new career interest. Regardless of which project you select, we will do our best to ensure that you and your organization have a volunteer experience that is safe, rewarding and challenging.

Once you have read the directory and found a project that interests you, the next step is to contact the person listed for that project to get answers to any questions you might have. Then, if you decide you want to apply, you’ll need to complete the application found on the Angeles National Forest volunteers website at <http://www.fs.usda.gov/main/angeles/workingtogether/volunteering>, and mail it to the contact person; or you may choose to scan and e-mail it to AngelesNFVolunteers@gmail.com.

While you’re at the volunteers website, you can also click on the “additional opportunities” link to access information about more than 40 volunteer groups who are currently and very actively involved with us. Please feel free to contact any of them directly about volunteering with them. (These are the same groups as listed in our “Hall of Fame” at the back of this directory. Check it out!)

Thank you for your interest in volunteering for the Angeles National Forest. We look forward to hearing from you soon!

Sincerely,

Thomas A. Contreras

The Angeles National Forest is located mainly in the San Gabriel Mountains just north of Los Angeles. It is considered to be one of the most urban national forests in the nation, with more than 17 million people living within an hour's drive and approximately 4 million visitors each year.

The Forest is divided into three Ranger Districts oriented around watershed boundaries: the Los Angeles River Ranger District, the Santa Clara/Mojave Rivers Ranger District, and the San Gabriel River Ranger District. Elevations range from 1,200 feet to 10,064 feet, with dense chaparral and oak covering the lower- to mid-elevation slopes and various conifer species in the higher elevations.

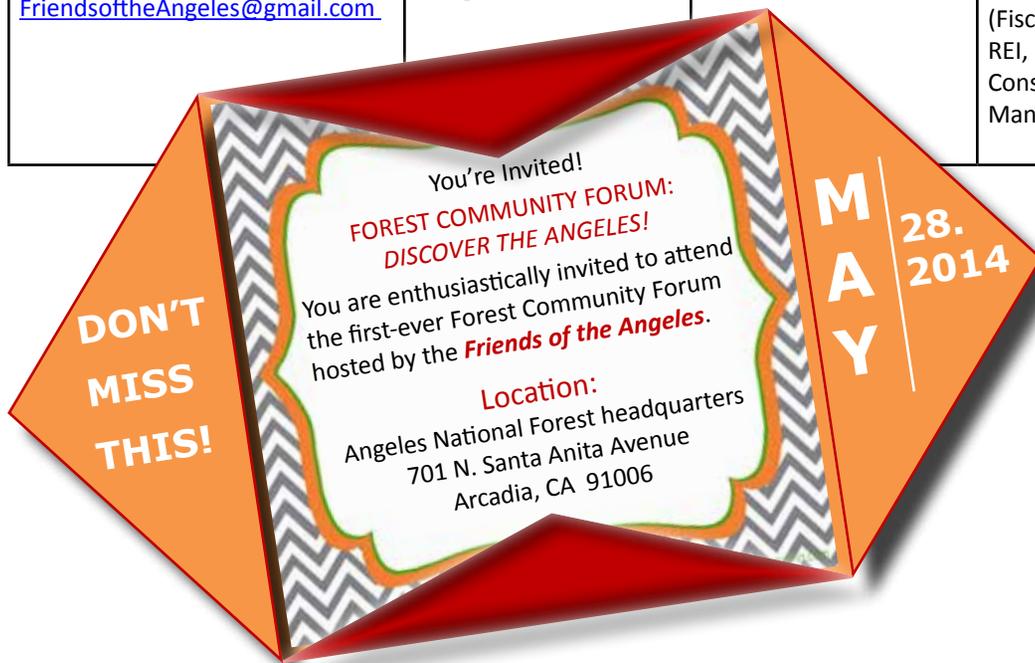

The Angeles provides 72 percent of all open space in Los Angeles County, and a third of all downstream water in the Los Angeles basin. The major infrastructure for the basin is located within the Forest. This includes power lines, water conveyances, telecommunications, natural gas and oil pipelines, and flood control facilities.

Recreational opportunities on the Forest include: hiking, biking, winter sports, fishing, boating, water-play, off-highway vehicle use, picnicking, camping, scenic driving, and horseback riding. The Forest has approximately 550 miles of recreational trails, including 73 miles of National Recreation Trails and 176 miles of the Pacific Crest Trail.

Specific project location information will be published as projects are identified and scheduled. Contact Pete Fish for further directions.	The Pacific Crest Trail runs east to west across much of the Angeles National Forest. Throughout the 2014 field season, the Pacific Crest Trail Association (PCTA) volunteer crews will be repairing tread and brushing along the length of the trail; clearing dead/fallen trees; and trail rehabilitation through the Station Fire burn area. We will be adding these projects to the directory as they are scheduled. Each year, dedicated PCTA volunteers and staff flock to the woods with picks, shovels, saws and spirit to rebuild washed-out bridges, cut away fallen trees, and restore eroded portions of the trail. They recruit young and old by the hundreds to give time and energy to fix what needs to be fixed from Mexico to Canada. PCTA volunteers and corps crews devote tens of thousands of hours to keep the trail open. As a result, hikers and equestrians alike will tell you that the PCT is one of the finest trail experiences in existence.

The Los Angeles River Ranger District is in the central section of the Angeles National Forest. Comprising about 200,000 acres, it offers a host of recreational opportunities including hiking, camping, water play in the creeks, picnicking and mountain biking.

Elevations in the district range from 1,200 to 8,700 feet. The higher area includes the upper reaches of the San Gabriel River canyons and the 5,700-foot Mount Wilson. The lower elevations are covered with chaparral, oak, sycamore and alders, while elevations above 5,000 feet feature pine, cedar and fir.

Top recreational areas include Chantry Flat Picnic Area and Trailhead, Cobb Estate Trailhead, Switzer Picnic Area and Trailhead, Buckhorn Campground and Lower Big Tujunga Canyon. The district has more than 375 miles of trails including sections of the Pacific Crest, Gabrielino, Silver Moccasin and High Desert trails.

Besides recreation, the district is used for movie filming, 50-K and 100-mile bicycle events, forest-product sales, TV and radio broadcasting and astronomy studies.

San Gabriel River Ranger District (SGRRD)

110 N. Wabash Avenue
Glendora, CA 91741
(626) 335-1251

The San Gabriel River Ranger District is one of the most heavily visited districts among national forests with more than 1.5 million visitors each year. The district is in the eastern-most portion of the Angeles, and spans over 182,500 acres providing a scenic backdrop for Los Angeles and San Bernardino counties.

The district offers a wide range of recreational opportunities. Forest visitors will find 95 miles of scenic hiking trails ranging from moderate 5 percent slopes to trails ascending at slopes of more than 60 percent. The trail system rises and falls throughout clusters of peaks surrounding the 10,000-foot Mt. San Antonio, also known as Mt. Baldy. The trail system includes a small portion of the Pacific Crest Trail and the rocky and winding Bear Creek trail into the San Gabriel Mountain Wilderness.

The district also includes the Sheep Mountain and San Gabriel wilderness areas and a portion of the Cucamonga Wilderness area with elevations ranging from 2,400 feet to over 10,000 feet. These wilderness areas offer rushing rivers, rocky gorges, deep canyons, and spectacular vistas.

The district has several developed campgrounds, as well as a 7-mile National Scenic Byway bicycle trail that bounds the West Fork Wild Trout area, and a 24-mile off-highway vehicle trail route. Visitors can also enjoy target shooting, hunting, and winter sports. The district also has an education program that serves area schools with a curriculum that meets State environmental education guidelines.

Santa Clara/Mojave Rivers Ranger District (SCMRRD)

33708 Crown Valley Road

Acton, CA 93510

(661) 269-2808

The Santa Clara Mojave Rivers Ranger District is the largest of the three districts in Angeles National Forest. It comprises about 390,000 acres in the north and northwest areas of the forest, offering hiking, picnicking, camping, off-highway vehicle trail riding, and other recreational activities.

Elevations in the district range from 1,286 feet to a high of 9,399 feet at Mt. Baden-Powell, the second highest mountain elevation on the forest. The historic Big Pines Information Office, just outside of Wrightwood sits at 6,862 feet the highest elevation on the San Andreas Fault. Terrain on the district ranges from high rugged mountain peaks and pine forest, to the lower foothills of the Mojave Desert with scrub oak and desert sage.

Top recreational areas include: Jackson Lake in the Wrightwood area for fishing, camping, hiking, picnicking, and snow play; Littlerock Dam for fishing and picnicking; and Pyramid Lake for boating, fishing, hiking and water play. Yearly visitors use the Mt. Baden-Powell trail as training in preparation for high elevation hikes in the High Sierras.

The Santa Clara Mojave Rivers Ranger District is also the home of the Mountain High ski resort, the largest ski resort on the Angeles National Forest. The district has also been used for numerous film and television projects and many commercials. The district contains the Magic Mountain and Pleasant View wilderness areas and includes Piru Creek to the west, designated as a wild and scenic river.

We dedicate this “Volunteer Features” section of the directory to shine the spotlight each month on recent accomplishments of specific volunteers.

The work of volunteers on the Angeles National Forest is vital in caring for its invaluable resources and serving the millions of people who use and enjoy it year around.

On any given day, volunteers can be found maintaining and patrolling trails, campgrounds, and picnic areas; removing invasive plants; sharing information with forest visitors; picking up trash; helping with fire prevention and environmental education, and much more.

We will also post news here of upcoming training opportunities, safety messages, special events – and other items that may be of interest to our volunteer readers.

We welcome you to send us your photos and news of recent or upcoming volunteer activities so that we can share them with others. Please send your news items to AngelesNFVolunteers@gmail.com

Thanks for sharing!

Angeles National Forest offers “on-demand” volunteer orientation

The Angeles National Forest offers an “on-demand” volunteer orientation session that provides an opportunity to learn about the Forest Service and the many ways that the work of volunteers contributes to the Forest Service mission. The session can be conducted by arranging for either in-person instruction (November through April), or by means of internet and teleconferencing sessions conducted by Volunteer/Partnership Program Consultant, Kathy Peterson (available year around).

The 3-hour orientation gives Volunteer Program leaders an opportunity to talk with new volunteers about the kinds of work they may be doing, and to emphasize the importance of safety as they begin their work. But it also provides helpful information to new OR long-time volunteers about the Forest Service itself.

This session isn’t a replacement for the hands-on training that volunteers will need on the ground, but it does provide introductory information about the Forest Service (its mission, priorities, organization, etc.); information about the volunteer program on the Angeles – including our emphasis on work safety; and an overview of laws and policies that pertain to individual volunteers (e.g., civil rights, ethics & conduct, etc.).

The full range of topics covered during the orientation includes:

- * The Forest Service History & Mission
- * FS Chief’s Focus Areas
- * Angeles National Forest Priorities
- * Volunteer Opportunities
- * Background Checks
- * Training
- * Civil Rights
- * Volunteer Rights
- * Reimbursement
- * Facilities Tour
- * Forest Service Organization
- * Region 5 Focus Areas
- * Angeles National Forest Staff & Organization
- * How to Become an ANF Volunteer
- * The Volunteer Agreement
- * Health & Safety
- * Ethics & Conduct
- * Attendance & Record Keeping
- * Who Wears a Uniform

Kathy Peterson can be reached by phone (626-437-5789) or via e-mail (angelesnfvolunteers@gmail.com) to answer your questions or to schedule an orientation session for your group.

Coca-Cola Watershed Restoration Project

Coca-Cola employees, their families, and friends showed up in force on Saturday, April 5, 2014 at the Wildwood Picnic Area in Big Tujunga Canyon – armed with boots, gloves, sunscreen, lots of water and Coke, and much, much enthusiasm.

The mission before them was clear: Locate and manually remove invasive weeds competing with native plants for scarce water in this fire-ravaged canyon of the Angeles National Forest.

The eager volunteers gathered around picnic tables in the cool of the morning for last-minute instructions, then divided into work crews, and spent the next several hours wrestling with overgrown Spanish broom, tumble mustard, tree tobacco and other weeds hindering native plant recovery in the area.

At the end of the work day, everyone had experienced – up close and personal – that invasive weeds come out of the ground (often quite unwillingly!) one at a time.

Food trucks arrived just in time to feed the hungry workers before sending them on to enjoy the rest of their weekend. Smokey Bear showed up too – to express his appreciation and to share a photo op with his many admirers.

For the Coca-Cola Corporation, the weed removal event was part of a larger water-replenishment partnership with the Forest Service and the National Forest Foundation to help return millions of liters of water back to nature.

For the Forest Service, it was yet another opportunity to receive a welcome gift from the community – the all-important contribution of volunteer service.

Coca-Cola vs Spanish Broom

In grueling, hand-to-hand combat, tenacious volunteers battled an (almost!) equally tenacious Spanish broom plant for what seemed like hours – lopping off branches, digging and exposing roots, and reefing on the main root with a hefty weed wrench. Eventually the plant gave it up – to the cheers of all involved in the Herculean effort!

Since the devastating Station Fire burned through the canyon in 2009, volunteer efforts such as this have been pivotal in enabling native plants and grasses to return to the area.

Keep an eye on future editions of the Volunteer Project Directory to learn about invasive weed removal projects in the coming field season.

On behalf of the Angeles National Forest, we send out a big THANK YOU to the Coca-Cola volunteers!
