JAVELINA #332

GENERAL INFORMATION: The Javelina Trail #332 is part of the 50 mile Prescott Circle trail.

TR 332 rises and falls over the hilly terrain of Arizona’s central highlands. Exposed slopes of chaparral and pinyon-juniper woodland are interspersed with shady groves of ponderosa pine where a variety of bird calls can be heard ringing out from among the trees. There are nice views of Thumb Butte and Granite Mountain—Prescott’s most prominent landmarks. TR 332 is notable because it provides a route between these two features. TR 332 follows a portion of the old Santa Fe railroad grade, just past a locked gate.

CAUTION: this trail is open to hikers, horseback riders and mountain bicyclists. Please be considerate of others—slow down and know when to yield.

ACCESS AND TRAILHEAD LOCATION: From downtown Prescott, travel west on Gurley Street (becomes Thumb Butte Road) for 3.4 miles to the Thumb Butte Recreation Area. Continue another 0.9 miles on Thumb Butte Road to a parking area on the right. On the east side of the parking area you will see a TR 318 trail sign. You must hike east about 1 mile on TR 318 to reach TR 332.

Alternately, TR 332 may be accessed from Iron Springs Road. From its intersection with Williamson Valley Road travel northwest on Iron Springs Road 1.5 miles to Granite Basin road (FR 374). Continue on Iron Springs Road another 1.5 miles to the turnoff on the left. Just before the turnoff is a sign indicating that the trail crosses the roadway. Parking is fair. From here the trail can be followed northeast to the Granite Basin Recreation Area, or south towards Thumb Butte.
