

Walk in the Forest

September 11, 2014

Alabama Nature Center

Fitzpatrick Elementary School

More than 170 fourth and fifth grade students from Fitzpatrick Elementary School in Montgomery, AL will visit the AWF Alabama Nature Center on Thursday, September 11, for the "Walk in the Forest" Program.

Students will participate in activities led by U.S. Forest Service professionals, such as exploring aquatic life at the Bullfrog Pond with John Moran, learning how to identify trees along Hilltop Pass with Eugene Brooks and watching birds with binoculars along Gum Pond Loop with Ryan Shurette. Students will also fish at the upper pond with Matt Vines and Rick Dowling from the Alabama Nature Center. In addition to experiencing wildlife firsthand, students will receive a special visit from Smokey Bear. These special moments with nature give the students an opportunity to form a great appreciation for the outdoors and foster a genuine concern for our natural resources.
