

Tahoe National Forest

Travel Analysis Overview

Fall 2014

- The Tahoe National Forest is currently working on completing Subpart A of the 2005 Travel Management Rule. Subpart A is a forest-wide roads analysis.
- A team was established that is developing the Forest Travel Analysis Report, which must be completed before October 2015. This process provides a mechanism that will allow us to identify opportunities to adjust the road system in support of relevant land management objectives.
- Forest roads must provide safe access for users, in a financially sustainable manner, without creating environmental harm.
- This is an ongoing and living process, which is beginning through these initial steps. The resulting Travel Analysis Report will provide a foundation as discussion and input continues in the years to come.
- Public involvement is a key part of this. The Tahoe National Forest is hosting two open houses in communities on the Forest to share what our team has pulled together so far and to gather input from you about the current Forest road system.
- This transportation analysis process is not a proposal or decision. It is intended to help inform possible future road planning. Before any future actions are taken, the Forest Service will provide additional opportunities for public participation in the decision making process.
- This is a chance for the Tahoe National Forest to get your involvement earlier in the process than we typically have in the past. It's an opportunity to get your ideas ahead of any specific projects and to help you provide informed input when those projects come up in the future.
- We encourage everyone who uses roads, or benefits from a national forest, to share ideas for a sustainable road system. Please join us in this process. Your continued participation is important as we move forward on this analysis.

USDA is an equal opportunity provider and employer.

For More information, please contact:
Michael Woodbridge, Public Affairs Officer, Tahoe National Forest
631 Coyote Street, Nevada City, CA 95959
mjwoodbridge@fs.fed.us