

SAN JUAN NATIONAL FOREST REGULATIONS

A quick guide to staying safe and legal!

As Revised 2014

DISCLAIMER

Rules referenced in this brochure do not reflect the exact language of federal regulations and special orders. Specific language and legal terms are available from our offices and online.

This listing does not include all site-specific closure orders on the San Juan National Forest. Forest officers patrol the National Forest to help fulfill the U.S. Forest Service mission of "caring for the land and serving the people." Forest visitors who receive citations may end up in federal court and be subjected to fines.

Please respect the National Forest and other Forest visitors. Thank you.

PLEASE FOLLOW THE RULES!

This brochure contains a listing of federal regulations and special orders on the San Juan National Forest. Failure to comply with rules and regulations may result in citations and fines. These regulations are in place to ensure your safety and that of other forest visitors, and to protect natural resources. Check with our offices (listed on back) for more information.

FIRE

- Remove all flammable material from the immediate vicinity before starting a campfire.
- Campfires must be attended at all times and completely extinguished before left. Don't leave a campfire to burn out while you sleep in your tent or go for a walk.
- Fireworks are not allowed ... PERIOD.

GATHERING FOREST PRODUCTS

- You must have a permit to cut or remove timber, firewood and other forest products.
- A validated load tag must be visibly posted when you load, haul or remove firewood and other forest products.
- You are responsible for knowing the regulations on size and species of standing dead timber allowed as firewood.
- You must carry written authorization from landowners to transport wood from private land across public lands.

LIVESTOCK

- Leave gates as you found them (open or closed) once you pass through.
- Only certified weed-free hay and feed can be brought onto the National Forest for stock animals.
- Do not tie pack animals directly to trees.
