Bald Rock Fire Tower - At one time the Bald Rock Picnic Area was the site of a fire lookout tower. The tower was one of fourteen lookouts that provided a view of the entire National Forest.

Towers were staffed during times of high fire danger. Lookouts spent their days scanning the horizon for signs of fire, reporting any "smokes" to a dispatcher who quickly sent fire fighters to the blaze.

The Bald Rock Fire Lookout Tower was in use from 1936 until 1970, when it was replaced by a system of aerial observation.
