Table E-1. Road segments where a non-Federal entity is recorded as having some interest in a road on Forest land

These road segments are listed in the Forest Service Infra roads database as either being maintained by or under the jurisdiction of another entity. However, the Infra database contains information that is often out-of-date, or it is unknown whether the information is correct. In many cases, the origin of jurisdictional information in the Infra database is unknown and therefore cannot be verified.

The roads are organized by the County in which they are located, then in order of road number.

Column descriptions:

Primary Maintainer: The entity that is currently maintaining the road or road segment, according to the Forest Service Infra database. Part of this TAP is to determine which information in Infra is incorrect.

Entity needing legal instrument: The entity that has claimed jurisdiction over a road, or is maintaining a road, or has some other legal instrument in place to use the road. This information is from the Infra database and in some cases, particularly roads listed as maintained by Mono County, is known to be outdated. However, we included the information from the existing database to identify database correction needs.

Claimed by Mono County? This column is only included for the roads within Mono County. Mono County provided the Forest with its GIS database containing all roads in Mono County, and their ownership. A “yes” in this column means that the Mono County roads GIS database showed the road as being owned by Mono County. A “no” means it was not shown as owned by Mono County.

Is instrument currently in place: A legal instrument is anything that gives any sort of interest in a road on Forest Service land to another party. A legal instrument is required to meet Forest Service regulations for any other entity to construct, maintain, block, or otherwise alter a road on the National Forest Transportation System (36 CFR 261.10). A legal instrument can be anything from an easement, which is a perpetual grant of right to use a road (FSH 2709.12, 34.1), to a permit (FSM 7731.17 and FSH 7709.59, section 24), to a cooperative forest road agreement (FSH 1509.11, Chapter 30).

This column shows whether there is or has been a legal instrument in place. If this box contains, “Outdated”, it means that there is a record of some legal instrument, but it is older than 1990, and the Forest likely has no record of the permit. “No” indicates that the Forest has no record of any legal instrument for the road.

County: The County in which the road is located.

Miles: The length of the road segment, in miles

Map Grid Number: The number of the map containing the road. The Forest was broken into 6 sections for mapping purposes. Maps are searchable by road number and are available electronically in Appendix F.

Table E-2. Non- Forest system roads needed to access the Inyo National Forest.

This table shows road segments that pass through non-Forest land to access Forest land. Right of use through these properties is important to provide public and administrative access to Forest land. Many of these roads also pass through Forest land before entering private land, and therefore some legal instrument may be needed by the private landowner for a different segment of the same road.

The roads are organized by the County in which they are located, then in order of road number.

Column descriptions:

Primary Maintainer: The entity that is currently maintaining the road or road segment, according to the Forest Service Infra database.

Entity with jurisdiction: This column the entity which is recorded in the Forest Service Infra database as having jurisdiction over the road.

Instrument currently in place? This column shows whether the Forest has any record of a legal instrument allowing Forest use of the road. In some cases, the Forest may not need any legal instrument to use the road segment. The Forest plans to work with other entities to determine where a legal instrument is necessary or beneficial.

County: The County in which the road is located.

Miles: The length of the road segment, in miles

Map Grid Number: The number of the map containing the road. The Forest was broken into 6 sections for mapping purposes. Maps are searchable by road number and are available on the Forest website or on compact disc.
