

Southern Tier National Forests

in the Eastern Region

Working Together to be your

Employer of Choice

Five national forests (the Mark Twain, Hoosier, Shawnee, Monongahela and Wayne National Forests) comprise the Southern Tier within the Eastern Region of the U.S. Forest Service. These five national forests work together, striving to make the U.S. Forest Service your first choice in career opportunities. They want to be your Employer of Choice. Currently Southern Tier national forests employ approximately 900 permanent and temporary employees in a variety of occupations. The Forest Service has found that a diverse workforce is better suited to fulfill its mission of, "Caring for the Land and Serving People."

Nationwide the U.S. Forest Service manages 193 million acres in some of the most scenic and inspiring areas within the United States. Imagine the array of occupations, geographic locations and work settings that are available. There are many opportunities for employment with the Forest Service, from student employment (STEP) and internships (SCEP) to temporary and permanent positions.

A career in the Southern Tier would not only provide exciting and challenging experiences but also benefits such as travel, training, health insurance and retirement plans. We welcome you to learn more about the variety of program areas the Southern Tier has to offer by visiting www.fs.fed.us/fsjobs.

Forest Service
Job Website:

www.fs.fed.us/fsjobs

Apply On-line:

www.avuedigitalcentral.com

Job Application Guide:

Download User Guide for the "Avue Digital Service Application"

http://www.fs.fed.us/fsjobs/employ/asap/User_Guide_applicant.doc

Choose your career... from hundreds of Occupations ...

... in hundreds of Locations

USDA Forest Service – The Great Outdoors is a Great Place to Work

Southern Tier National Forests

Professional or Technical Careers

A career with the Forest Service allows individuals the opportunity to manage diverse lands and watersheds, in a variety of jobs where they can apply their skills and interests, while doing meaningful and rewarding work. Whether it be professional or technical, the agency offers jobs to fit any skill set. While most of our technical employees work out of doors, many others in the professional fields perform their duties in an office setting.

Because job opportunities in the Forest Service are so varied, it takes a similarly diverse workforce to respond to the agency's natural resource management mission. Career opportunities with the Southern Tier national forests may lead you to one of the following occupations:

- Botanist
- Ecologist
- Biologist
- Social Scientist
- Law Enforcement Officer
- Computer technician
- GIS cartographer
- Data Entry Technician
- Surveying Technician
- Silviculturist
- Recreation Technician
- Biological Science Technician
- Forester
- Soil Scientist
- Hydrologist
- Geologist
- Wildlife Biologist
- Engineer (civil/structural)
- Recreation Planner
- Landscape Architect
- Archaeologist
- Forestry Technician
- Engineering Technician
- Customer Service Representative

A Forest Service Career may be the door to your Future—Caring for the Land and Serving People.

A Career Working for the Great Outdoors

"Where conflicting interests must be reconciled, the question will always be decided from the standpoint of the greatest good for the greatest number in the long run."

Gifford Pinchot, First Chief,
Forest Service, 1905-1910

Administrative

The administrative field in the Forest Service supports a wide range of business operations; everything from human resources and public affairs to contracting and administrative assistants.

- Teacher
- Realty Specialist
- Accounting Technician
- Purchasing Agent
- Support Services Specialist
- Vocational Specialist

USDA Forest Service – The Great Outdoors is a Great Place to Work

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) prohibits discrimination in all its programs and activities on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, religion, age, disability, political beliefs, sexual orientation, or marital or family status. (Not all prohibited bases apply to all programs.) Persons with disabilities who require alternative means for communication of program information (Braille, large print, audiotape, etc.) should contact USDA's TARGET Center at (202) 720-2600 (voice and TDD).

To file a complaint of discrimination, write USDA, Director, Office of Civil Rights, Room 326-W, Whitten Building, 1400 Independence Avenue, SW, Washington, DC 20250-9410 or call (202) 720-5964 (voice and TDD). USDA is an equal opportunity provider and employer.