Free Workshop for Teachers and Youth Group Leaders Featuring Local Educational Trunks

The Flathead National Forest, in partnership with the Flathead Community of Resource Educators (CORE), is sponsoring a free one-day workshop for teachers and youth group leaders on Thursday, October 15. The training offers teachers, home school parents, 4-H leaders, Girl and Boy Scout leaders and others an opportunity to explore many of the educational trunks available for use in classrooms, at troop or group gatherings or outdoor education programs. Trunks about wetlands, climate change, forestry, invasive plant species, fire ecology, wildlife and more will be featured at the workshop.

The free workshop will be held at the Flathead National Forest Office in Kalispell, 650 Wolfpack Way, near Glacier High School, from 9am to 3:30pm. Teachers can receive six Office of Public Instruction renewal units for attending.

Teachers can register for the workshop through PIRnet, www.kalnet.io-solutions.com/pir. Other youth group leaders may register by calling 406-758-5204. For more information about the Flathead Community of Resource Educators (CORE) visit www.flatheadcore.org.
