Topo maps: USGS 7.5 minute quads: Pine Lake, Sweetwater Creek

The Trailhead: From Tropic drive 7.4 miles west on Highway 12 to the Bryce Canyon / Antimony intersection. Turn north (right) toward Antimony. This is county road 1660 locally know as Johns Valley Road. 10.7 miles down Johns Valley Road turn right on FR 132, signed Pine Lake Campground. Continue on FR 132 for 5.43 miles to the Pine Lake Campground. Turn left and follow the road (still FR 132) east .25 miles to the Pine Lake OHV trailhead.

The Trail: This portion of the GWT mostly follows open roads or old roads that are closed to motorized vehicles. The trail begins on FR 132 just across from the entrance of Pine Lake Campground. Follow the two track to the west for 0.3 miles. The two track will come to a road in an open area often used as a dispersed campsite. Turn right, heading north, on this road. Keep an eye out for blazes and GWT markers as several spur roads will take off from this road. At 2.6 miles the trail crosses FR 1460. At 3.5 miles the trail begins a steep climb up a loose red hill. At the top of the hill the trail will pass through a metal gate then descend down to Mud Springs Draw. At 4.5 miles turn left on the road and head west. At 4.8 miles the trail passes Mud Spring. When the road begins to turn north look for the trail leaving the road on the right. At 6 miles the trail comes out on a road. There is a trail sign here. The trail crosses the road toward an old homestead then comes out on FR 133 and turns right (east). Follow FR 133. At 8 miles the trail turns left and leaves the road. There is another trail sign here. The trail heads up a drainage. At the top of the hill the trail crosses an old road then descends down a drainage on the other side. At the bottom of the hill at 8.85 miles the trail comes to a fork, stay left. At 9.3 miles the trail crosses a steep sided drainage and ends across the sage flat at forest highway 17.
