RE: Shoshone-Bannock Tribes authorized representatives to the Cooperative meetings on the Supplemental EIS for Big Horn Sheep

The Shoshone-Bannock Tribes (Tribes) thanks the Payette National Forest (Forest Service) for seeking Tribal input on this proposed Supplemental Environmental Impact Statement (SEIS) for big horn sheep viability. The Tribes are highly concerned about the management of big horn sheep and habitat within the Payette National Forest, and wish to continue to actively participate in the cooperative meetings.

Authorized Tribal representatives to these cooperative meetings shall be Claude Broncho, Leander Watson, Chad Colter and Yvette Tuell. The Tribes look forward to working with the Forest Service on the development of this SEIS for big horn sheep. Please contact Claude Broncho at 208-239-4563, or at cbroncho@sbtribes.com for policy level questions.

Sincerely,

Nathan Small
