

Recreation Sites

Developed recreation facilities include campgrounds, picnic areas, trailheads, and other areas containing specialized recreation facilities that are planned to accommodate a fixed number of people at one time.

Dispersed recreation sites are areas of concentrated use by recreationists, but do not contain developed facilities.

Recreation site locations were created using ortho-photography, engineering schematics, the global positioning system, and input from Grassland districts staff. All locations are current to 2006.
