

Potential Green Creek Access

Some questions have arisen regarding the Green Creek put-in. In the Environmental Assessment, Table 3.1-6 lists past, present and reasonably foreseeable future actions on national forest lands. On page 53, Green Creek Trail construction is listed as the reasonably foreseeable future action. This foreseeable future action includes providing access from the Chattooga River trail down to the Chattooga Wild and Scenic River (WSR). There are no plans to provide road access down to the Green Creek put-in. The access will be walk-in only. While the Green Creek put-in would probably be located slightly downstream of the confluence of the Chattooga WSR with Green Creek, the exact location would need a site-specific analysis and separate decision. Forest Service employees have reviewed the area and determined that access down to the Chattooga WSR is feasible. See the attached map for an approximate location of the proposed access and Green Creek put-in.
