ROACH-BAUER FORESTRY FORUM

A series of lectures with discussion on current forestry topics for foresters and related professionals in Northwestern Pennsylvania and Southwestern New York

PROGRAM

"Emerging Issues in Forestry and Land Management"

Dr. James Grace

Maurice K. Goddard Chair in Forestry and Environmental Resources Conservation

Penn State University

Issues of ecological concern such as non-native invasive species, global climate change, changing markets, loss of wood products infrastructure, and increased demands on forests are just a few of the many challenges facing today's professionals in forestry and land management. Dr. Grace's presentation will be of interest to wood industry, consulting and managing foresters, and conservation organizations.
