Forest to change days fuel wood permits are sold; Cuba Ranger District affected only

SANTA FE, NM — Effective Sunday, October 23, fuel wood permits at the Cuba Ranger District station will no longer be sold on Saturdays, and will only be available for sale Monday through Friday until further notice.

All other Santa Fe National Forest offices will continue to sell fuel wood permits everyday Monday through Friday with the exception of the Los Alamos location, which does not sell fuel wood permits on Thursdays. Currently the Pecos office only sells fuel wood permits on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, while presently the Las Vegas office only sells on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Office hours throughout the Santa Fe National Forest are from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

For more information on fuel wood permits and open fuel wood areas, please contact your respective area office:
