The USDA Forest Service, White River National Forest, located in the central Rocky Mountain Region of the State of Colorado, is clarifying the documentation provided on the website for the Brokers.

The current map that is located on the Acquisitions Management (AQM) – Contracting website is a generalized area in which the properties are located for the commercial real estate services. The markings on the map are of no concern and should not be taken into consideration. This map is a general overview of White River National Forest.

For Brokerage responses to the documentation provided on website, please email your responses to Star Chandler at schandler@fs.fed.us
