Huckleberry Mountain
Walk-In Turkey Hunting Area
Ozark-St. Francis National Forests • Mt. Magazine Ranger District

Hunting Information
The Ozark mountain region is known for magnificent scenery, rough terrain and good turkey hunting opportunities. Walk-in turkey areas are the result of hunters requesting opportunities to hunt on public lands managed by the USDA Forest Service in a place free of disturbance from motor vehicles.

Land
This area in the Mt. Magazine Ranger District is predominantly mature hardwood mixed with pine. The top of the mountain is flat, but steep slopes fall away to the North, East and South. Roads penetrate the walk-in turkey area from all sides, but none pass all the way through because of the steep slopes. Access into the area is good due to numerous trails, but the foot terrain is steep.

There are several developed wildlife openings within the area that are maintained year-round to encourage an abundance of healthy wildlife habitat. There are some scenic vistas within this area, viewable in the late fall and winter, but overlooks are limited in the spring and summer months due to heavy timber growth.

Private Land
Some land along the borders of the Huckleberry Mountain Walk-in Turkey Area is privately owned, and hunters are asked to be particularly mindful of public land boundaries. All Forest Service maps show boundary lines.

Road Closures
All interior roads leading into the walk-in turkey area are closed at the boundary from April 1 to May 31 of every year. Restricting vehicle traffic, horses and ATV’s protects turkeys during the critical nesting and brood rearing seasons. To obtain a complete list of road closures, please contact the Ranger District.

Codes of Federal Regulations
Pursuant to 36 C.F.R. 261.54 and 261.56, forest roads in this area may be closed upon official order, seasonally or permanently. Road closures prohibit the use of vehicles on designated roads. Violation of the prohibition is punishable by a fine of not more than $500 or imprisonment for not more than 6 months, or both.

Pursuant to 36 C.F.R. 261.50(e), federal, state or local law enforcement, firefighting or rescue officers acting in an official capacity are exempt from the order.
