

Returning this Fall — A One-of-a Kind Event!

An event for all ages,
all income levels,
all shades of green!

Come and learn about:

▼ Locally-Grown Foods —

Basic gardening, best practices, organics, beekeeping, cooking demos, food preservation, mushroom cultivation, small-scale livestock, raising chickens, vermicomposting, and building a local food system to feed our region.

▼ Energy —

Home energy efficiency, conservation and renewable alternatives; solar ovens, geothermal, and weatherization; from cost-saving light bulbs to zero net energy homes.

▼ Consumer — Buying local, home composting, creative recycling, and spending your income wisely.

▼ Conservation — Backyard landscaping, mushroom hunting, managing woodlands for wildlife, prescribed burning, water quality, invasive weeds, pond management, and incentives and more. Leaving the land better than you found it.

▼ Survival — Earthquake and storm preparation, water purification, wild edibles, cleaning your catch, and more!

SUSTAINABLE LIVING EXPO

Dixon Springs Agricultural Center

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 27, 2012

9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

FREE ADMISSION — Open to the Public

LOCAL ARTISAN and VENDOR Tents Informative Presentations, Demonstrations & Exhibits

Bring the whole family — kid's activity area, and more!

“A Country Boy Can Survive” meets “The Victory Garden” and everything in between!

Door prize drawings
(Donation of items appreciated; must be present to win.)

For more details, visit www.SLEexpo.org

Questions? Email: sbrown63@shawneelink.net or call 618/638-6954