Fire Restrictions

Depending on conditions, certain restrictions may be placed on the use of campfires, charcoal barbeques and stoves within the forest.

Even if you have a campfire permit that has not yet expired, you are still obligated to abide by these restrictions.

To help protect yourself and the forest, be sure to check with the Forest Service for current fire restrictions in effect. Remember, it's your responsibility...CHECK BEFORE YOU GO!