

FORESTRY

If your idea of a perfect summer job is to hike around in the woods all day gathering data that will be used to improve the health of our forested lands, we've got a job for you. The Boise National Forest anticipates hiring numerous summer seasonal positions with a forestry emphasis at three locations on our 2 million-acre National Forest. The tasks you will be expected to complete include: field mapping, gathering inventory data, monitoring reforestation activities, participating in tree improvement activities, and assisting in timber stand improvement activities. Please refer to the following table for the specifics of each position.
