I agree that I will complete my donated artwork and community extension within six months of completing my residency, and that I am willing to sign over publishing and reproduction rights for my donated artwork to the United States Government.

Application Enclosure Checklist:

Along with page 1 of this application, please include the following with your submission:

1. Statement of Purpose: We are seeking artists interested in promoting and celebrating our federally designated wilderness areas and creating dialogue about the challenges we face in a changing environment. Please provide a one-page answer to the following questions:

-Today's wilderness managers work on a variety of fronts, educating the public, monitoring visitor trends, addressing invasive weeds, even responding to the global challenges of climate change and ocean acidification. As an artist in residence, you may work on projects connected to any of these issues. Do you see a potential for your artwork or community extension to create dialogue about the issues facing our public lands?

-What do you find distinct or unique about wilderness in Alaska?

2. Provide a detailed description of your donated project and community extension:

-Propose a finished art product. Describe how this donation will benefit the Forest Service, Park Service or Fish & Wildlife Service and the public and how it will contribute to the preservation of wilderness.

-Also propose what your extension would look like. This is to be a presentation in your community (or the community of your choice) where you would share the experiences of your residency, as well as highlight the importance of public lands. You would also discuss how the wilderness and your work with the rangers inspired you as an artist and share your creations, both field work and finished products. It may be a public talk/slideshow, a workshop, an art opening, etc. Collaborative projects and programs that coordinate with local schools and organizations are encouraged. The sky is the limit!

3. A description of your physical condition, including any experience camping/traveling in a remote, harsh environment such as Alaska.

4. A resume of no more than two pages.

5. Art Samples: six total. Please note that samples that are mailed in will not be returned.

-Visual Artists: (i.e. Photographers, Sculptors, Painters, etc.) 6 color photos, maximum size of 8 ½" x 11. Please also include descriptions of artwork to include title, materials and dimensions of work.

-Writers: Six pages of written examples (prose, short stories, plays or poetry).

-Musicians/Composers: Musicians and composers should submit lyrics and recordings of their work.

-Multidiscipline Artists: Send appropriate sample combinations based on the above. Please also include descriptions of artwork to include title, materials and dimensions of work.

-Finished artwork and community extensions must be completed and must be donated within 6 months of completing your residency.

-This original artwork resulting from the residency will be donated to the United States Government, which means that the artist signs over publishing and reproduction rights to that work.

To submit application:

Applications can be either mailed in or emailed electronically. Submit applications directly to the wilderness manager; addresses listed below. Please note that mailed application materials will not be returned.

Artists may apply to as many areas as they wish; submit an application to each appropriate area.

Paper applications that are being mailed in must be postmarked by February 18, 2013. Emailed applications are due by March 1, 2013. Selections will be made in April.
