

Education

One of the key components of the project is to provide education opportunities to families and individuals. Much of this is currently being developed. It is anticipated that the education portion of the project will include:

Web access to syllabuses and material may be developed for a variety of groups. These groups may include:

- School groups in grades 5-12,
- University Students,
- Boy Scouts 8, 9, 10 and 11-13 year olds,
- Families with young children, and
- Adults

The material that we hope to provide electronically would cover aquatic insects, fish, habitat for aquatic species, plants, animals, birds, geology, and canyon history. These web based packets will be developed as time and resources permit and may be developed by interested publics.
