

Trail Use Permits

What is the permit program for trail use?

This program is authorized under the Recreation Enhancement Act which permits federal land management agencies to charge modest fees for some recreation uses.

Hoosier National Forest requires an annual or day-use permit for horse and bicycle use for those 17 years of age or older. Ninety-five percent of the income from these permits is used to maintain trails, enhance trailheads, and improve visitor services on the Hoosier National Forest.

Where are trail use permits required?

Permits are required when using a horse or bicycle on a Hoosier National Forest trail, trailhead, or campground designated for that use. Permits are not required on public roads, or on the Hardin Ridge Trail. Horses and bicycles are required to stay on designated trails. Permits must be carried on your person or displayed from your horse or bike. There are approximately 184 miles of trails designated for bike use, and 211 miles of trail for horse use on the forest. Horses are not allowed at trailheads for trails that do not allow horse use and bikes are not allowed at trailheads for trails that do not allow bike use.

Who needs a trail use permit?

A permit is required for each rider age 17 and older. The permit is issued to the rider and may not be loaned to another person. Pack stock and foals without a rider are not required to have permits. Indiana Department of Natural Resources bridle tags are for state lands and are not valid for the Hoosier National Forest.

What are the trail permit fees?

The cost of an annual permit is $35.00 per person. A daily permit is $5.00 per day per person. There are no refunds for lost or stolen permits.

How can I purchase a trail permit?

In Person: Permits can be purchased at the Tell City Ranger District, 248 15th St., Tell City, Ind., 47586 or the Brownstown Ranger District in Bedford (address below). A list of vendors that sell trail permits is on the back of this flier and on our website. Some businesses operate seasonally so call ahead for availability.
