

Unit Highlights

Visitors to this Ranger District can enjoy the picturesque setting at Stuart Lake Complex, hike or bike along the Glenn Emery Trail, ride an ATV on Camp Livingston Multiple-Use Trails, or hunt the many game seasons. Viewing wildlife at Iatt Lake Observation Pier or at the Catahoula Butterfly Garden is also available.

Surrounding Areas

Stuart Lake was originally created as an irrigation reservoir for the Civilian Conservation Corps-constructed Stuart Nursery. This peaceful 5-acre lake is surrounded by a mixed pine/hardwood forest setting. Recreation opportunities offered at Stuart Lake include picnicking, swimming, fishing, trail hiking, biking, and a separate group picnic shelter. Trails include the Glenn Emery Hiking Trail (~4 miles) and two OHV trails at Camp Livingston Multiple-Use Trail System. The Catahoula National Wildlife Management Preserve is located on both the Catahoula and the Winn Ranger Districts.
