

2025 MUSHROOM GUIDE

Malheur/Umatilla/Wallowa-Whitman National Forests

Permit Requirements & Fees

Product Quantity Removal Recording

Commercial mushroomers are required to keep a record of the date, time and number of gallons removed off National Forest Lands on the Product Quantity Removal Record located on the front of your mushroom permit. This requirement will be enforced. See page 2 of this guide for more information.

Free-Use

A permit is not required to harvest, possess, or transport less than one gallon in Oregon or less than five gallons in Washington. Mushrooms harvested free of charge cannot be sold, bartered, or given away.

Commercial Permits

A Commercial Mushroom Permit is required if:

- ◆ You are 18 years or older and harvest mushrooms to sell, or;
- ◆ You harvest, possess, or transport more than one gallon in Oregon or more than five gallons in Washington.

A government-issued identification (ID) must be in the Permittee's possession while harvesting and transporting forest products.

Commercial Permit Rates:

Consecutive-Day:

$2.00 per day, minimum 10 days = $20.00
(Example: 14-day permit = $28.00)

Annual Permit: January 1 - December 31 = $100.00

Buyer's Permits are no longer available.

Industrial Camping Permits:

An Industrial Camping Permit is required if you plan to camp overnight on National Forest Lands while commercially picking mushrooms. Commercial pickers are prohibited from camping in developed campgrounds. Industrial Camping Permits can only be obtained at the District Office where you will be camping. Each District may have different industrial camping requirements, please check with the local District Office for more information.

BLUE MOUNTAINS FORESTS' MUSHROOM PROGRAM

The minimum charge for all forest product permits is $20. The cost per day to pick mushrooms is $2 per day and you will be required to buy the minimum, 10 consecutive-days permit for $20. An annual permit sells for $100.00.

Points to remember:

- ◆ The Blue Mountains National Forests do not require free-use permits for individuals harvesting "incidental amounts" of mushrooms. To be consistent with State laws, "incidental amounts" are defined as "possessing or transporting one gallon or less in Oregon and five gallons or less in Washington."
- ◆ Commercial mushroom picking is prohibited in wilderness areas. Possessing more than one gallon of mushrooms within Oregon wilderness areas or five gallons within Washington wilderness areas is considered commercial and therefore prohibited.
- ◆ If you are 18 years or older and plan to harvest mushrooms to sell, you are required to purchase a commercial mushroom permit.
- ◆ A government-issued identification (ID) must be in the Permittee's possession while harvesting and transporting forest products. Copies are not allowed.
- ◆ If you plan to commercially pick mushrooms and camp on the National Forest, you must obtain an Industrial Camping Permit at the local Ranger District Office. Some Districts will require you to stay in a designated Industrial Camp.
- ◆ A Recreation Pass may be required at participating trailheads on the Umatilla and Wallowa-Whitman National Forest. Not all trailheads require a pass and those that do will be signed accordingly. The Malheur Forest does not have any participating Recreation Pass sites.
- ◆ The Blue Mountains Forests are working together to provide a program to meet everyone's needs.

Product Quantity Removal Recording

Commercial mushroomers are required to keep a record of the date, time and gallons removed off National Forest Lands on the Product Quantity Removal Record located on the front of your mushroom permit. This requirement will be enforced. When you purchase a permit, you sign and agree to all terms and conditions of the permit. General Condition # 15, located on the back of the commercial mushroom permit, states:

"Permittee shall complete the Product Quantity Removal Record in ink prior to transporting products."

Example PRODUCT QUANTITY REMOVAL RECORD
Date	Time	Quantity Removed	Date	Time	Quantity Removed	Date	Time	Quantity Removed	Date	Time	Quantity Removed
5/14/14	10AM	1 gallon
5/14/14	12:30PM	1/2 gallon
6/3/14	1 PM	3 gallons

Don't forget a pen!

Know your mushrooms!

Proper identification and determination of whether a mushroom is edible is solely the responsibility of the picker. Many questions often asked by the novice picker are:

- ♦What is it?
- ♦Is it edible?
- ♦How do you cook it?

Many plant guidebooks are available to assist with identification and can be found at local book stores. Other sources of information include your local libraries, and county extension offices. Our word to the wise is:

"When in doubt, throw it out!"

Commercial Mushroom Picking is PROHIBITED

in Wilderness Areas

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Who needs a permit to pick mushrooms?

A: A Commercial Mushroom Permit is required if you are 18 years or older and harvest mushrooms to sell, or if you plan to harvest, possess, or transport more than one gallon in Oregon or more than five gallons in Washington.

Where can I pick mushrooms?

A: Permits are good on the Malheur, Umatilla, and Wallowa-Whitman National Forests. You may pick commercially anywhere on these public lands EXCEPT:

- (1) in wilderness areas, and
- (2) other areas as designated by the Forest Service.

Wilderness area boundaries may or may not be signed. Check your Forest map for Wilderness boundary information. Mushroom picking is not permitted in any botanical area, research area or other areas designated by the Forest Service. Offices issuing permits will provide a list of closed areas, if applicable. And remember, the National Forests are public lands, all mushroomers have a right to pick in "your" area.

I bought a permit then decided not to buy or pick. Can I get my money back?

A: No. Permit fees are not refundable.

Where can I camp if I commercially pick mushrooms?

A: Industrial camping permits are available at local ranger district offices for people who pick mushrooms commercially. You must obtain a new industrial camping permit each time you change your camp location. Several Ranger Districts will have designated Industrial Camping Areas for commercial mushroom pickers.

Are all roads open to drive on?

A: No. Open roads vary from area to area. Visitors are asked not to drive on water-saturated, muddy roads in spring and early summer. Vehicle weight and maneuvering cause road damage which makes road maintenance difficult throughout the summer. Check with the local ranger district office for updates on road conditions, motorized vehicle use maps (MVUMs) and closures.

What happens if I don't follow the terms of my permit?

A: The Forest Service reserves the right to revoke the permit for non-compliance with permit conditions. In addition, you may be issued a citation, which may require you to appear in court, and/or pay a fine if found guilty.

What do I do with my trash?

A: Pick it up and pack it out. PLEASE!

FOREST INFORMATION

Commercial mushroom picking, buying or selling is prohibited within National Forest Wilderness Areas. Possessing more than one gallon of mushrooms within Oregon Wilderness areas or five gallons within Washington wilderness areas is considered commercial use and, therefore, prohibited. Mushroom picking is not permitted in any botanical area, research area or other areas designated by the Forest Service.

Industrial Camping Permits are required while camping on National Forest Lands when commercially picking, selling or buying mushrooms. Industrial Camping Permits must be obtained at the local Ranger District Office where you will be camping.

Do you need a Northwest Forest Pass?

Mushroomers on the Umatilla and Wallowa-Whitman National Forests are required to display a Northwest Forest Pass in the windshield of their vehicle when using a designated fee trailhead. The Malheur National Forest does not require the Northwest Forest Pass at this time.

Passes cost $5.00 for each day pass or $30.00 for an annual pass. Senior Interagency passes and Access Interagency passes will act as a Northwest Forest Pass.

Not all trailheads are participating in the Northwest Forest Pass Program. Those trailheads requiring the Northwest Forest Pass will be signed accordingly. For a list of participating trailheads, please contact your nearest Forest Service Office.

Help Make This Season Safe and Enjoyable. Remember to:

- ◆ Park outside of designated campgrounds. Save these sites for recreationists.
- ◆ Carry mushrooms in a net bag, allowing mushrooms to spread their spores for future mushroom production.
- ◆ Pick up and pack out your trash.
- ◆ Be respectful to other mushroomers!
- ◆ Give wild animals some space. Leave newborns alone!
- ◆ Report any violations promptly to the Forest Service.

How will Travel Management Planning affect mushroom harvesting?

The 2005 Travel Management Rule directs each National Forest to identify and designate roads, trails, and areas suitable for motorized use and prohibit use of motor vehicle outside of the designated system.

Each Blue Mountain forest is in various stages of analysis and implementation of the Travel Management Rule. It's your responsibility to research the area and understand which roads are open to motorized travel. Free Travel Plan Maps or Motor Vehicle Use Maps (MVUMS) may be available upon request. Contact the Forest Service office nearest you for more information (see page 3 for contact information.)

Many road closures have already been implemented on the ground and may be closed permanently, temporarily, or seasonally for a variety of reasons including:

- ◆ Wildlife Habitat Protection
- ◆ Resource Protection
- ◆ Public Safety
- ◆ Conflict of Use
- ◆ Legal Mandates
- ◆ Sensitive Land Resources

Road closures can provide many natural resource benefits. However, they will only work if you comply with the restrictions. Please encourage others to support travel management in your area and report violations to the closest Forest Service Office. Know what roads are open and closed!

Be prepared!

Each year many mushroom pickers find themselves lost. Fortunately, most find their own way out, though some do not. Here are some helpful tips to help you safely plan your next mushroom outing:

Know the Area: Study the lay of the land before you start. Carry a map and compass and learn how to use them. Be on the lookout for landmarks such as a mountain, road or stream.

Dress Properly: Always assume you may not make it back before dark and the weather may worsen. Wear layers of clothes. Wool is always a good choice because it retains its warmth even when wet.

Carry the Essentials: Pack a lunch or a few snacks. Bring matches or a lighter, a pocket knife and a whistle. Whistling carries farther than the human voice and uses less energy than yelling.

Have a Plan: Let someone know exactly where you will be and when you will return. Report late arrivals promptly.

Be Physically and Mentally Prepared: Don't overdo it. Know your physical limits. Mentally prepare yourself for a survival situation. Think it through before it happens.

What to do if You Become Lost:

Sit tight, wait, and stay calm. Keep warm and dry. Build a shelter and a fire before it gets dark. Make your location visible. Signal for help with three whistle blasts. A controlled fire with some green branches or a signal mirror can be seen from the air. Leave lots of clues such as notes, messages in the dirt and good footprints. Stay on trails or roads.
