

Dispersed Camping

Sequoia National Forest

Giant Sequoia National Monument

Dispersed camping is camping outside of a designated campground and is allowed in many areas of the Sequoia National Forest and Giant Sequoia National Monument.

There are certain areas where dispersed camping is prohibited and these areas are posted. There is no dispersed camping in the Tule Canyon along Highway 190 between Springville and Moorehouse Creek and along the Wishon Road.

Dispersed camping is free but you are REQUIRED to have a valid CAMPFIRE PERMIT. These can be obtained free of charge at any Forest Service, Bureau of Land Management or California Department of Forestry Office. Be aware of fire restrictions, typically enforced by mid-summer, banning open fires outside of designated campgrounds. A camping stove may be allowed but check with your local ranger station.

The maximum length of time you may camp in a dispersed areas is 14 DAYS at a time and 30 DAYS in a year.

Dispersed camping is a activity enjoyed by many visitors to the forest. Each year the number of people taking advantage of dispersed recreation opportunities has increased, making it more and more essential that these areas be left clean and undamaged.

Keep food and all other scented items secured in your vehicle if you are not in the immediate area. For your safety and the safety of wildlife, cover your ice chest with a towel or blanket at night and locked in your vehicle.

The following acts are prohibited on Sequoia National Forest and Giant Sequoia National Monument and are subject to a fine:

1. Driving off designated roads inside the Monument.
2. Leaving campfire unattended.
3. Leaving trash buried, stashed or left in campfire ring.
4. Abandoning or leaving personal property.

PACK IT IN-PACK IT OUT.

1. Cutting or otherwise damaging trees for use as a lean-to or a horse corral. Do not leave anything tied to trees.
2. Destruction of government property such as signs, posters, gates, trees, etc.
3. Removing forest products without a permit.
4. Discharging any firearm within 150 yards of any building, occupied area, across forest roads, or body of water.

Here are some tips for appropriate dispersed camping:

1. Protect standing trees from damage from axes, knives, nails and hatchets.
2. Use only dead and down trees for firewood.
3. Bury human waste at least six (6") inches deep and 200 feet from any waterway or trail. DO NOT bury toilet paper—PACK IT OUT
4. Wash at least 200 feet away from any water source using biodegradable soap.
5. Set up camp at least 200 feet from any waterway or trail.
6. Take a litterbag to carry out all refuse. Do not leave trash in fire rings. Do not bury trash.
7. A campfire permits is required for campfires, charcoal barbeques, and camp stoves. Use existing fire grates or fire rings if possible. If none exist, please use the fire pit method and disassemble it after you extinguish your fire. Firewood may not be transported off of the Forest without a permit.
8. Avoid leveling or digging trenches around tents. Place tent on bare ground and not on vegetation.
9. Protect your food from the bears and other animals. Keep your food and anything with a scent stored in an airtight container in your car trunk. If your vehicle has no trunk, put everything on the floor, cover it with towel or blanket and close the windows. Always, keep a clean campsite.
10. LEAVE YOUR CAMPSITE BETTER THAN WHEN YOU ARRIVED!

Practice a Leave No Trace! Ethic.

When you leave your campsite,
 Take all garbage, large and small.
