Scott Schuster, Incident Commander

Location: The Island Creek fire is located 14 air miles north of Elk City, ID on the Moose Creek Ranger District.

Start Date: July 31, 2025    Cause: Lightning    Size: 13,931 Acres

Containment: 5%    Total Personnel: 286

KEY MESSAGE:

The fire activity is primarily in the fire footprint left by the Wash Fire in 2015. An increase in wildfire smoke is expected, due to hotter and drier weather today and the rest of the week. Air resources continue to be utilized to support the incident. An expanded closure order went into effect Friday, August 29, 2025, as described under closures and special messages below. Mail and package delivery services will continue for residents.

CURRENT STATUS:

Yesterday, fire personnel completed a handline on the portion of the fire near the Gedney Creek and Selway River confluence to prevent further fire spread to the west. They will continue to secure the area today. Structure protection resources will be continuing to perform structure assessments along the Selway River corridor. A night shift presence is anticipated to remain on the fire for the next few nights. Crews and heavy equipment continue to make good progress on the shaded fuel breaks along the 464 and 443 roads. Crews continue to implement structure protection measures, fuels reduction work, and dozer line around Stillman Camp. Fire personnel will scout and assess additional locations for control lines and structure protection.

WEATHER AND FIRE BEHAVIOR

A heat advisory continues today until 10:00pm. There will be a warming and drying trend over the fire area for the next several days. With the continued hot and dry weather, fire officials anticipate more smoke production, but minimal fire growth. Temperatures will begin to cool slightly starting Friday with chances of moisture expected over the weekend.
