Learn how to get involved in the 2022 Feds Feed Families campaign this summer and all year long. All federal employees are invited to participate.

Feds Feed Families (FFF) encourages employees from all federal departments and agencies to give in-kind contributions -- food, services, and time -- to food banks and pantries. This year's campaign focuses on both in person and online donations and highlights a summer of giving in June - August, along with seasonal reminders to donate throughout the year.
